To: Editors, Publishers and Agents,

Greetings,

I am Eveline Horelle Dailey and my intention is to introduce my new book titled, The Drum Made from the Skin of my Sisters to you.

To inform you further, in this media kit you will find this letter of introduction, the book cover, a short synopsis, the table of content, the first three chapters, and some unedited comments. Also included is a picture of myself, and a short bio.

This compelling novel, which stands at about 78,000 words was published February 2015. The content is based on truth yet to protect some identities the book has been fictionalized. Upon your request a copy of the book can be sent to you.

My electronic address and other contacts methods are stated within this letterhead.

I look forward to communications with you.

Sincerely,

Eveline Horelle Dailey
